

Women's Business Enterprise (WBE®) Certification

In an effort to support our client's diversity requests, Sound Deposition Services, Inc., is now proudly part of the Women's Business Enterprise (WBE)®. This means that our business is majority-owned, operated and controlled by one or more females. We joined the WBE® in order to show how we value in the inclusion of all races and ethnicities in our corporate establishment.

The WBE® was created in 1997 in response for the need of a nationally-recognized standard for Women's Business Enterprises. This organization is endorsed by corporations and public agencies alike. As a matter of fact, if you supply directly or indirectly to government agencies and large corporations, you may have contractual quotas for utilizing WBEs® as vendors. By using our services, you are both fulfilling your litigation and business obligations. Please check with your litigation chair/diversity manager to see if you will benefit from citing our qualification as a WBE.®
